

Heat Conduction: Task 11

The image describes a rectangular body with a heat flux from left to right and heat loss through convection.

1

Due to the heat loss through convection, the temperature gradient decreases from left to right.