

Insulated system

Which of the statements is true for an insulated system?

Answer: Energy in the form of heat cannot cross the boundaries of the system

Mass cannot cross the system boundary and also energy in the form of heat cannot cross the boundaries of the system, but there is a possibility that energy in the form of work can cross the system boundary