The change of the enthalpy with respect to a change in entropy at constant pressure is described by: $\left(\frac{\partial h}{\partial s}\right)_P$

Indeed this partial differential $\left(\frac{\partial h}{\partial s}\right)_P$ describes the change of the enthalpy when the entropy changes while the pressure is constant.